FOREWORD

PINESHIP:

From the first moment that you step onto the campus, it reaches out its arms to you in welcome. Weep and it endeavors to ease your sorrow; laugh and it intensifies your joy. Err and it forgives your weakness; achieve and it spurs you on to greater goals. It is these qualities of love, friendship, and understanding united into one perfect whole which guides the life of each of us here at St. Genevieve's.

Mother Helen Latour, RCE

DEDICATION

She, as a teacher, and we, as students, came together to St. Genevieve's four years ago. Since then she has continued to be a guiding light to our class. The lessons she taught us were not always easy, but we have found them to be truly important ones. She was always ready and willing to help us when we went to her with questions about term papers, problems with book reviews, and needs for college recommendations. As Seniors we took with her a sightseeing tour above, around, and below the world – in literature. We will never forget that trip which encompassed all the great writings of men from the summit of Homer's Olympus to the nadir of Dante's Hell. For these things and for the many things we have not the space to mention, we, the Senior class of 1965, dedicate our Victorian to Mother Latour.

IN MEMORIAM

"Saint Genevieve-of-the-Pines" How many pictures those words call to mind. A walk across the pine-tree-covered campus, a quiet moment alone with God in the chapel of modern Sharry Hall, a particularly interesting classroom discussion, an exciting tournament game, or any one of a hundred more remembered experiences. How many of us ever realize that the St. Genevieve's of today had a very humble beginning and that only through the work and devotion of such people as Mother MacSwiney, Mother Hitching, and Mr. Pinto was the dream realized.

Mother MacSwiney was here in the Academy's early years and worked with seemingly endless energy to make it a school deserving of its fine reputation. She stressed the education of the Sisters and other members of the faculty and achieved a well co-ordinated and dedicated group of educators and it was she who later served as dean of the college.

Mother Hitching was also on the scene in the early years. An invalid for many years, she was forced to take a quieter role, a "behind the scenes" part, but without her there very well might never have been an Academy. She was that all-important "powerhouse" of prayer behind the others.

Mr. Daniel Pinto also played an important role in the development of the Academy as he helped to found Gibbons Hall for Boys. He served as the first headmaster and became the ideal of so many of the boys he came in contact with. He was a dynamic teacher and counselor and many of the people who knew him said that the assassination of President Kennedy and the death of Mr. Pinto were perhaps the two tragedies which most affected their lives.

We, the Class of 1965, think that it is time we interrupt today's rush of living for a few minutes and take a reflective look at the past. Because in remembering people like Mother MacSwiney, Mother Hitching, and Mr. Pinto, we may discover the qualities which made people great then and realize anew that these qualities endure for all times. We give our thanks to these three people with the promise that we will start working again for a new and brighter future for ourselves — and the world.

The thirteen members of the Student Government act as a voice and guide for the student body as they present ideas and suggestions to the Administration and as they help to enforce the rules and regulations of the Academy. Standing left to right are Stacy Kivel, Monica Kivel, Elissa McDade, Secretary-Treasurer Francina Rogers, President Chiqui Pipes, Vice-President Nanny Swoyer, Carol Simpson, Carolyn Gatz, and Anne Kearney. Seated are Pat Moore, Debbie Anthony, Martha Bender, and Carroll Cooke.

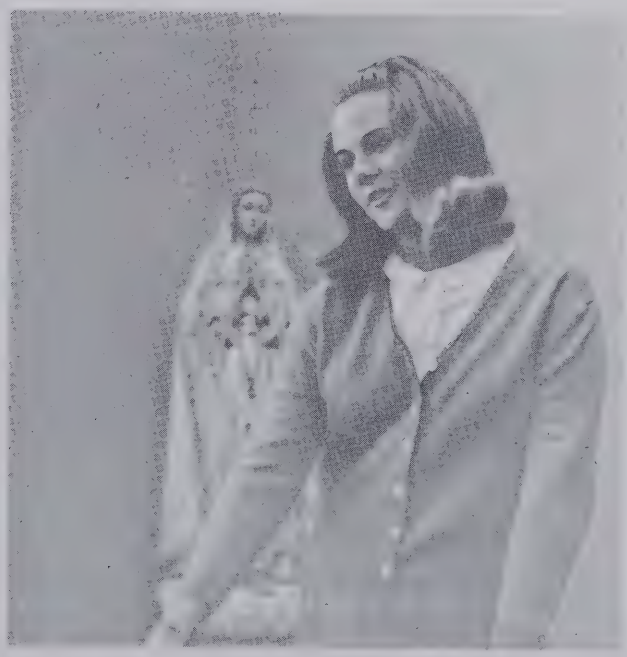
On a typical Thursday morning, Chiqui and Nanny may be seen carefully counting reports.

One of the many duties of the class vice-presidents, Carroll, Pat, Carolyn, and Stacy, is checking locker order.

Tina and Mary Ann remind the boarders "lights out" on Saturday night.



Frances starts evening study hall.

faction, to theirs; and above all, ever, and in all cases, to

This year we have had great reason to be proud of these freshmen our "little sisters." They have come to us not only for advice and consolation but also to share with us the joys of their many accomplishments. In September, we transformed them into bunnies for their initiation and apparently our choice was an apt one for they demonstrated their great jumping ability and nimbleness by winning Field Day. Whatever we have given to them this year as "big sisters" they have returned to us a hundredfold as we have watched them mature from green freshmen to "up and coming" sophomores. Our last wish as their "big sisters" is that their remaining three years will be as happy and successful as their first one has been.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Saint Genevieve's does much to recognize the outstanding efforts and achievements of her students and the highest honor attainable is membership in the National Honor Society. Membership is highly selective and the girls who are scholastically eligible are then rated by the faculty, the student government, and the Inner Circle Council on their qualities of leadership, character, and service. The girls are tapped by the old members during an assembly and the looks on the newly tapped members' faces run the gamut from disbelieving joy to tears of happiness. The formal initiation takes place several weeks later and any observer can readily see the common bond of joy and pride among the members, old and new, as they promise to uphold the ideals of the Pine Tree Chapter of the National Honor Society.

MARY EMILY KEETCH
President

Mary is a wonderful example of the extraordinary accomplishments shown by members in the Society. The picture to the right shows Mother Schwoyer congratulating her on her acceptance to North Carolina's Governor's School for students of exceptional ability.

FRANCINA ROGERS
Vice-President

Francina is an outstanding example of a great leader. The picture at left catches her filling out the school attendance record — only one of her many responsibilities as secretary of the Student Government.

CAROL SIMPSON
Secretary-treasurer

Carol is scholarship at its best. There's no look of a "bookworm" about her but she is at the very top of the senior class and the picture at the right shows her filling out some information for the National Merit Scholarship competition which culminated in her being chosen a Finalist.

The new members and the probationary members of the Pine Tree Chapter of the National Honor Society were tapped on February 15. The first row includes probationary members from left to right: Louise Fowler, Shelly Sneed, Carolyn Gatz, Anne Collisson, Debbie Anthony, Becky Lineberger, Sue Crowe, and Jackie Cassada. Mary Keetch and Francina Rogers, extreme right and left, flank the new members they have just tapped from left to right Monica Kivel, Laura Hodges, Carroll Cooke, Pat Linn, Becky Warner, Jackie Gilbert, Trish Moore, Nene Shuford, and Tina Arellano. Not pictured are Elissa McDade and Gretchen Bertram.

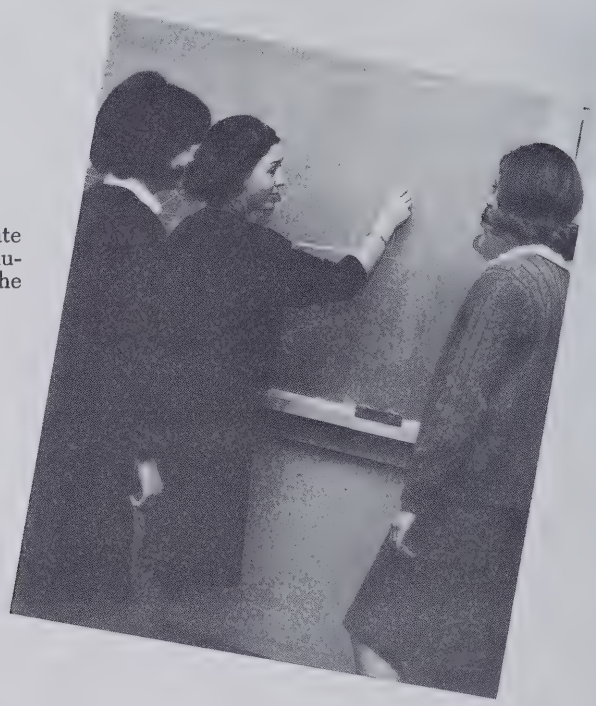
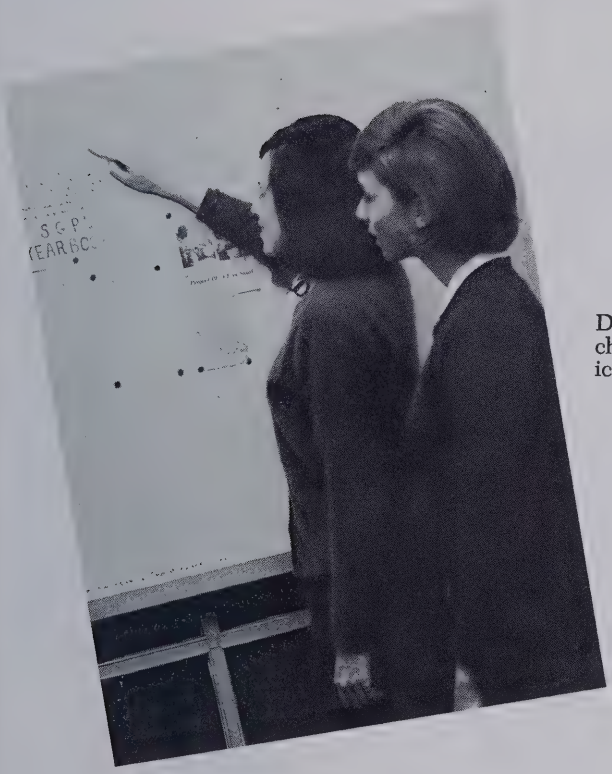
Gwen, Linda, and Pat try out layouts for the annual.



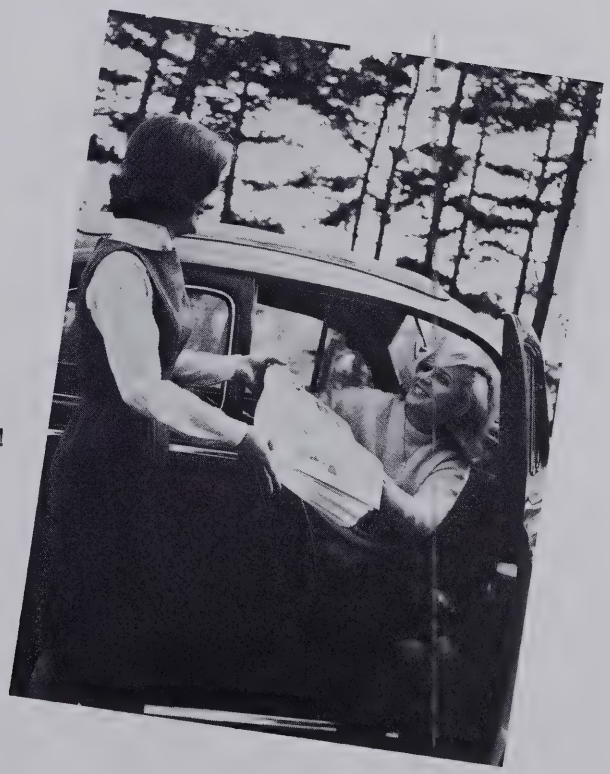
Editor Monica Kivel and associate editors Carroll Cooke and Nene Shuford submit the rough draft of the Victorian to Mother Schwoyer.

Editor Monica Kivel and associate editors Carroll Cooke and Nene Shuford submit the rough draft of the Victorian to Mother Schwoyer.

"I think you skipped a point in the first line", teases Tippie as she watches Nanny, Jane, and Mother McCarthy count a headline.



Doree Koontz and Tippie Worley check posters which launch the soliciting campaign.



Welcome back, Victorette!

CLUBS

The officers of the Teen-Democrats are left to right Monica Kivel publicity manager, Kathi Heedy president, Kathy Geddert vice-president, and Noel Robbins secretary-treasurer.

The Teen-Democrats Club and the Young Republicans Club strive to help students develop a healthy interest in politics as they give talks on various candidates, sponsor mock elections, and send representatives to state meetings.

The officers of the Young Republicans are left to right Nanny Swoyer publicity manager, Charlotte Hutton secretary-treasurer, Chiqui Pipes president, and Sherry Edwards vice-president.

Mrs. Carter and the Pineer Club officers: Edie Thomas, vice president; Janet Wright, president; Doreen Forney, secretary-treasurer, admire the Sportsmanship Plaque awarded each year to two outstanding seniors.

The Pineer Club, an integral part of SGP life, affords recognition for those who have excelled in sports and stimulates good sportsmanship.

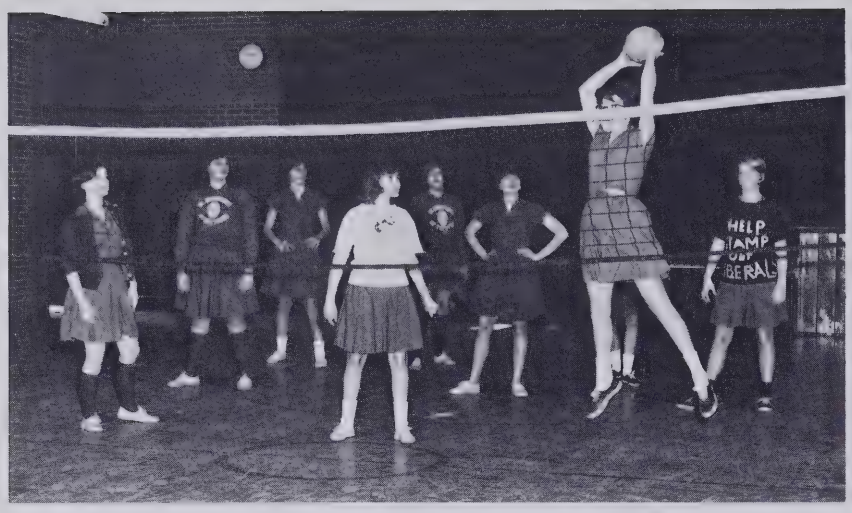
What's their secret?

Doreen strikes again!



The sophomore team, headed by Annie Collisson, captured the newcomb trophy.

A moment of silence and teamwork helped the seniors win the volleyball tournament.

Anna Harrison led the juniors to a speedball victory

Field Day gives every girl a chance for competition.

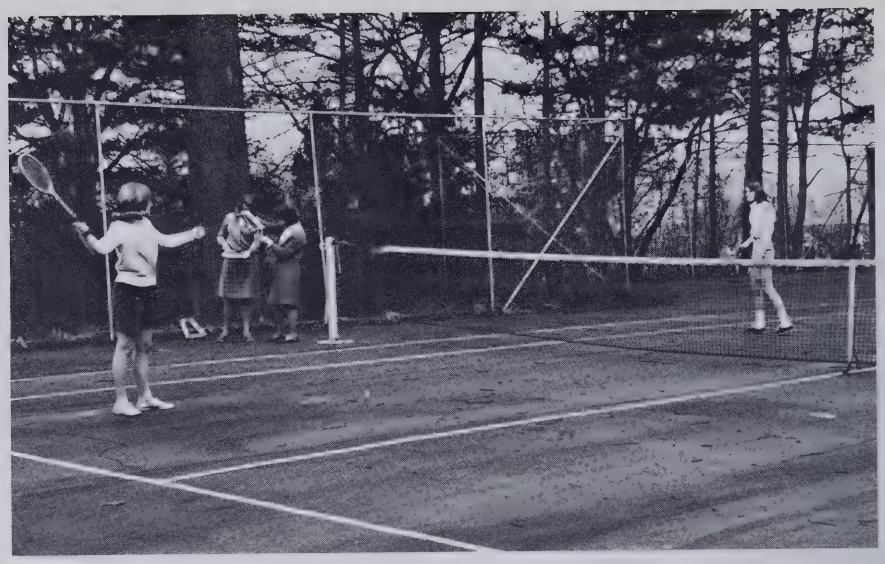
Freshmen display their volleyball skill.

A jump for victory!

Tally-ho!

"Get that ball and go!"

Boarders "raise a racket" on Saturday mornings.



Tug of war is a long pull, a hard pull, but a pull together.

"Put a tiger in your tank!"

The freshman get into "the swing of things" on Hazel Day.

Shelby discovers Carroll is her "big sister" at the Get Together Party.

"Hazel" directs operations in front of Lorin Hall.

Open House gives parents and friends a chance to get to know SGP.

Manners must adorn knowledge, and smooth its way through the world. Like a great rough diamond,

". . . but Mother, what if it rains?"

"I hope we can get this cat to stick soon. The Kampus Khana starts in two hours!" exclaims Nora.

"This is no time to be on a diet!" says Nancy at the annual Candlelight Supper.

Sa-Ge-Pis give the boarders a chance to meet boys from Christ School and Asheville School.

it may do very well in a closet by way of curiosity, and also for its intrinsic value.

Frances gets some help as she fills the new Coke machine before the Saturday night movie.

The boarders enjoy "breakfast in bed" on Country Club Saturday.

"Tell him I'll be down in just a minute," says senior Sherry Edwards.

Charlotte Hutton and Laura Hodges start gathering up the many odds and ends needed in docorating for the Junior-Senior Prom.

"Not so loud, Peggy, the banquet is supposed to be a surprise!"

There doesn't seem to be a doubt that Barbie and her date Boo Hayes are enjoying the February dance.

An informal shot of the October dance catches the spirit of the fun.

Monica, Trish, and Nanny clown around as they practice a "commercial" for the school talent show.

The juniors' activity play "Opening Night" was a real "hit".

PINESHIP IS . . .

PROJECT PEACE

Project Peace has its critics but then so did the Prince of Peace . . .

We tried to teach them more than just the rules to a game . . .

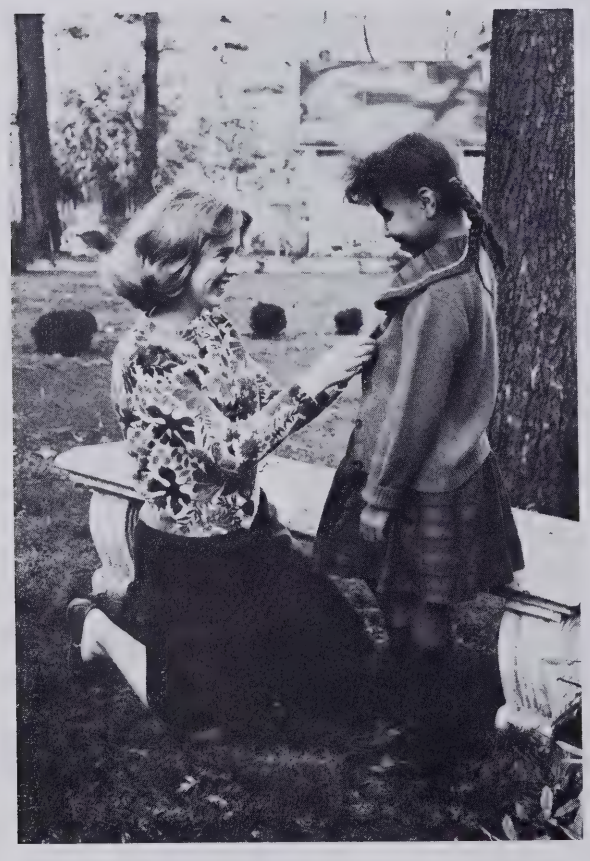
. . . and they taught us something too . . .

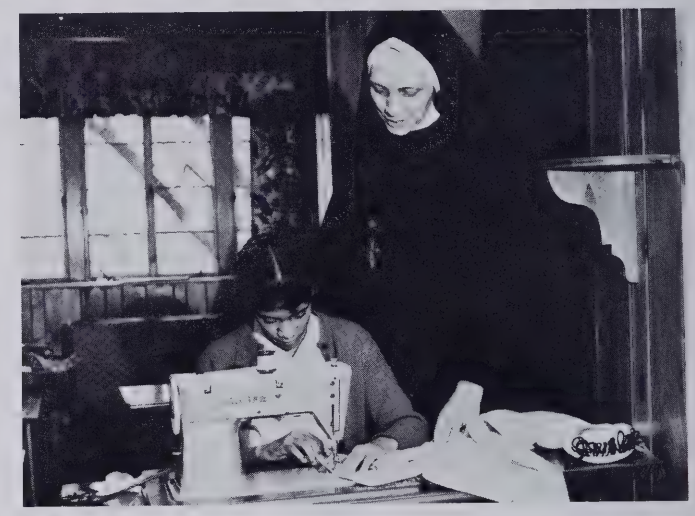
We students—big sisters to these children—give our afternoons to walk with them through our campus, play with them among the pines, and help them to study. Sisters, too, mingle among the 250 Negro boys and girls, toss balls, and explain arithmetic.

We see the critics of Project Peace to be providential and we pray for them, for we know that Project Peace is the work of God and He has promised peace to all men of good will. We pray that our work will in time be an instrument of understanding, love, and finally . . . Peace . . .

They taxed our forgotten knowledge with the endless questions they posed.

The warmth of friendship filled the rooms as we shared in songs, laughter . . .





and new ventures . . .

. . . our hearts softened to them as they told us good-by . . .

Lord make me an instrument of Thy Peace,
Where there is hatred, Let me sow Love . . .

Because of production difficulties, the 1964 Victorian, dedicated to Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy in memory of her husband, the late President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, was not published.

On the never-to-be-forgotten day of President Kennedy's funeral Lorin Hall glowed with candles reminding us of the torch our slain president had passed to our generation.

On their graduation day, the class of '64, in a sense, passed on to us a torch with which to lead the Academy. We are honored to include their pictures and achievements as part of our annual.
